Who's Who's Number 19

Nineteen Wartburg seniors have been accepted for the current edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

According to word received this week by Dean of Students Earnest Oppermann, those accepted are James Schwarz, Herbert Hafermann, J. Richard Chellevold, Lois Fritschel, Helen Mueller, Duane Matz, Dennis Dickman, Paul Fuchs, Dennis Wessels, Gilbert Wessel, Julius Roehl Jr., Herman Hein, Ruth Juilfs, Janet Welsch, Joan Pape, Ronald Pfohl, John Meyer, Rosemary Schneider and William Streng.

Prominent Seniors Listed

"Who's Who," which contains biographical sketches of prominent seniors throughout the nation, will be published in the spring. Wartburg's 19 entrants, who were elected by the Student Body, rate a separate section in the Fortress.

Student Body President Jim Schwarz, vice president Herb Hafermann and secretary-treasurer Lois Fritschel were all named to the book. Both Schwarz from Middleton, Wis., and Hafermann, from Jeffers, Minn., are pre-theological students. Miss Fritschel, Stillwater, Minn., is a social work major.

Chellevold Selected

Waverly senior Dick Chellevold, a biology major, was president of Science Club for two years. A music major, Helen Mueller of Tripp, S.D., is president of the Women's Co-ordinating Board.

Serving as president of Choir and the senior class is Duane Matz, Wells, Minn. From Garna-villo, Dennis Dickman is chairman of the Student Senate Public Relations Committee, president of Clinton Hall, and for the second year is business manager of the Fortress, yearbook. Paul Fuchs, Tripoli, was general Homecoming chairman this year. All are pre-theological students.

Three Pre-Meds In

Three pre-medical students, Dennis Wessels of Independence, Gil Wessel of Waverly and Herman Hein of Waverly, were also selected. Wessels is a "W" Club officer; Wessel is president of "W" Club; and Hein is president of the Wartburg chapter of the American Chemical Society.

Student Education Association president Ruth Juilfs, Burr, Neb., is concentrating on elementary education. Secondary education is the field for Janet Welsch, LaMoille, Ill., and Joan Pape, Waverly. Miss Welsch is president of her dormitory, and Miss Pape is president of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, and secretary-treasurer of Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity.

Pfohl Heads BBB

Biology major Ron Pfohl, Loyal, Wis., heads Beta Beta Beta, honorary biology fraternity. Science Club prexy John Meyer, who hails from LaMoille, Ill., is majoring in mathematics. Former officer in Choir, dorm council, Pi Sigma and Women's Co-ordinating Board is Rosemary Schneider, Waverly.

Julius Roehl, Hartford, S.D., and Bill Streng, Dubuque, round out Wartburg's representation. Both pre-thes, Roehl is president of Chi Rho, and Streng is captain of the 1959 track team.

Over 100 High School Visitors Coming To Fall Senior Counseling November 8

More than 100 high school seniors are expected to visit Wartburg next Saturday during the annual fall Senior Day, according to Admissions Director Fred Thompson.

All faculty members will be available for counseling throughout the day. Thompson emphasized that the fall program is primarily for counseling, whereas the spring day is for visitation.

"We encourage all seniors to come for individual counseling," he said.

Registration will be held in Knights Gymnasium from 8 to 9:30 a.m. Three counseling sessions and a welcome program are set for the morning. During the afternoon students may tour the campus and watch the Wartburg-Central football game.

Education Heads To SEA Convention

Miss Stella M. Austerud, of the Geography and Education Departments, and Dr. Herbert Max, Education Department chairman, will attend the Iowa State Education Association convention in Des Moines Nov. 6, 7 and 8.

Theme of the Convention is "Every Teacher Indebted to Every Other."

Austerud Dines

Miss Stella M. Austerud, of the Wartburg Geography and Education Departments, attended the dinner of the Bremer County Education Association held last Tuesday at the Methodist Church here.

Kenneth I. Jolson, director of the field service and professional relations divisions of the Iowa Education Association, spoke on the current year's program of the ISEA with special emphasis on school legislation.

Regents Convene Thursday

By Ed Schaley

Calling of a full-time college chaplain, date-setting on chapel auditorium contracts, need to increase tuition — all are items to be presented for consideration of the Wartburg College Board of Regents at its fall meeting next Thursday in the Faculty Lounge.

Miss Hildegard Moehl, Chicago, Ill., has been elected to the board for the usual six-year term, replacing Mrs. Henry Woll, St. Paul, Minn., whose term has expired. Some other re-organizing will be done at the meeting, including the election and re-election of officers. Dr. Walter Voeks, Waverly, is present chairman of the Board.

Becker Represents School

College president, Dr. C. H. Becker, will present some of the recommendations to the Board, acting in his capacity as ex officio member of the group and representative for the college.

Dr. Becker will discuss the qualifications of a Wartburg College chaplaincy candidate who has already shown interest in the position. He expressed the hope that a full-time chaplain be obtained by the end of the current school year. It will be recommended to the Board that arrangements be made to place the chaplain on the staff at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, which is still the college congregation.

The Board of Higher Education recommends that Wartburg increase its tuition rate, since tuition here is now lower than at any of the colleges involved in the coming church merger. Rates are still lower than most of the independent or church affiliated colleges in Iowa.

Similar Schools Higher

Average tuition at Wartburg is now about five hundred dollars per year, including necessary fees. Some other similar schools are charging as follows: Capital University, $500 plus $100 in fees; St. Olaf, $575 plus $110 in fees; Pacific Lutheran, $550 plus $70 in fees; Concordia College, $500 plus $115 in fees; Luther, $550 plus $50 in fees; and Augustana $480 plus $95-50 in fees.

Rather than merely upping tuition, Dr. Becker will advocate that tuition remain level with separate charges made for fees now involved under tuition cost, thus leaving a $500 tuition but with additional fees.

Names of candidates to receive honorary doctorates at this year's Commencement will also be presented for board approval.

Speech Major Intended

One item which has received only slight consideration in the past is the proposal for a speech major in the Wartburg curriculum. Dr. Becker intends to ask for this provision to go into effect by September of 1959.

Permission will be sought to receive bids by Nov. 19 on the proposed construction of a chapel-auditorium. Present amount allocated for this structure is $200,000, other obvious expenses to be paid from funds raised by the college development association.

Part of President Becker's report reveals an increase of 11 per cent in Wartburg enrollment over the past year. Interesting to note is that other Iowa colleges showed only a five per cent increase over last year. Dr. Becker attributes this increase and the fact that a large percentage of Wartburg students are being housed in dormitories, to the addition of Centennial and Clinton Halls.

Luther Needs Remodeling

Board permission will be needed to remodel Luther Hall where the present library is located. The recommendation will be that this space be converted into classrooms and faculty offices.

Plans now call for the dedication of the new college library to take place early in May. This will also need to be approved at the board meeting.

'Gamin' Original Student Choice

"Gamin" original, signed etching by Marian Greenwood, internationally known contemporary artist, was chosen recently by volunteer student voting to be purchased by the Art Department.

Miss Helen Wright, Art Department head, chose the etching "Enough" by Harry Sternberg because it had won the National Print Competition Prize. Theme of this etching is man's epic struggle to overcome forces of slavery.

Originally, both etchings were to be chosen by student vote, but Miss Wright voted to break a five-way tie for second purchase.

Lessons Translated

Dr. John Hiltner, Christianity and Latin Departments, learned recently that Sunday School lessons which he wrote last year are to be translated into Spanish for use in the Mexican Lutheran Church.

They will be published by the Department of Church School Literature, Wartburg Press, Columbus, Ohio.

ALC Convention Panel, St. Olaf Prexy For Convo

A panel will discuss the American Lutheran Church convention held Oct. 9-16 at San Antonio, Tex., in Tuesday's convo. Dr. Clemens M. Granskou, D.D., president of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., will address convo on Thursday.

Panel members Tuesday are Pres. C. H. Becker; the Rev. August Baetke, Sociology Department; and Dr. William F. Schmidt, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Dr. Granskou's address is entitled "Ax Handles or Woodpeckers."

Dr. Granskou

Ye Cannot Serve Two Masters

"Hang down your head, Tom Dooley; poor boy, you're going to die"; that is, if you participated too freely in making Homecoming a success this year, you most likely have rope burns from the tests given this past week.

If you managed to do a bang-up job on your tests, you either haven't slept for a week, or are among those who failed to co-operate by making commitments toward Homecoming activities. Who can blame you? Under the present setup for scheduling midsemester tests, you must either enjoy Homecoming and pay the consequences or fail to co-operate in the extra-curricular side of these annual festivities and prepare for the gauntlet of tests scheduled around this all too busy weekend.

Student co-operation is suffering from a paradox. All the good public relations work that is asked of a student at Homecoming stands in definite contrast to what is also required of him as an academic participant. The truly co-operative student who attempts to serve these two lords and masters of persuasion is fortunate if he is not in a state of collapse by the end of this week.

Homecoming seems to have been a definite success this year, but it is still being purchased at the sacrifice of students and faculty members, struggling to help the college have its big weekend with the pressure of a rigid schedule still ruling the roost and making things uncomfortable for everyone.

Now that we've seen a successful Homecoming, it should be time to decide whether to go up or down, whether to de-emphasize Homecoming with all its queens and paraphernalia, or to de-emphasize studies during Homecoming for the sake of better public relations for the college.

If Homecoming has to be a big show for the alumni and friends of Wartburg, which involves, among other things, immaculate rooms, theatrical displays, hearty handshakes and constant smiles, then the students and teachers shouldn't have to suffer for it while they're still cleaning up the crepe paper and returning borrowed tools.

The Trumpet staff went all out for this "good show," but the reality of it is that a newspaper can only reflect the unreality of Homecoming, the tinsel world orbiting for visitors to be ushered through with P. T. Barnum tactics. Such an issue as last week's Trumpet could be put under the heading of "service to school," but well might belong in the area of unpaid advertising.

Regardless of motives, no one can criticize the tremendous amount of work put into making this year's fall extravaganza a surface success. The price has been paid several times for this. However, no one is counting the disillusioned students who went wholeheartedly into the past month's activities only to find the entire schedule nearing the impossible. It is doubtful that all of them will give so much of their time to it next year. But, as Barnum once said, "There's one born every minute."

So, "Hang down your head, Tom Dooley"; you'll never understand the justice of some things, especially if you're only a lowly participant. No one seems ready to chuck the holiday out yet, but it's about time some steps were taken to make the dream of a successful Homecoming stop turning into a nightmare of fatigue.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"Naww, he wasn't the hero of th' game — ripped his pants off on th' last play."

We're Not On Vacation!

Homecoming issues of the Wartburg Trumpet were mailed much later than our usual time for sending them out. We regret this tardiness which was due to some mechanical slow up and too much Homecoming and tests.—Editor.

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

College life is synonymous with variety. Last weekend was filled with Homecoming events, which meant enjoyment and relaxation for all. This week mid-term exams are the center of student attention, which means study, exhaustion and disappointment.

In an attempt to gain reward and satisfaction instead of disappointment, many students crammed for tests in the popular group discussion fashion.

Football players travel to Dubuque today to continue their efforts toward winning the conference championship in unbeaten fashion. The fact that Dubuque is a short drive from Wartburg has presented a problem to many students. They can't decide whether to travel on Saturday to see the team win or to take Pastor Schick's advice and spend the weekend studying.

Interesting to note that so many faculty members' cars were parked in front of Centennial Hall last Monday evening. Hmmm?

Convocations have been getting more and more tolerable as the weeks go by. Perhaps the convo committee is leading up to the presentation of the famed "open question" session of convo. Campus bull-sessions need it badly since Harold Kurtz has graduated and left his classic Dr. Carr question to pass into oblivion.

Midsemester test week — the week when freshmen start asking, "Is it possible to raise an F to a C by the end of the semester?" and upperclassmen ask, "When does Thanksgiving vacation start?"

It is our understanding that Dean of Students Oppermann is responsible for the telephone in the college Den. Thanks, Oppie. Now we can all take that coffee break without fear of missing "that important call."

Unbeaten records seem to be the trend in football at Wartburg this year. Grossmann III won the I-M football title with ease under the able direction of "Skinner" Gourley, who quarterbacked the team to victory in every contest. Gourley remarked, "The high light of the season was when Bryn Carlson pushed over for a T.D. in spite of losing his pants to an eager tackler."

Spartan Conquest Sought

Dubuque Is Threat To Iowa Loop Bid

By Steve Van Guilder
Wartburg travels to Dubuque today to face the University of Dubuque in a 1:30 tilt on the Spartan field.

Dubuque opened its season bid with a non-conference victory and three conference wins, before falling at the hands of Parsons, 20-7. The Spartans came back the following week to give Upper Iowa its second loss in conference play by a score of 35-13.

On Oct. 25, the Spartans met the Beavers of Buena Vista, whom they haven't beaten since 1953. The Beavers kept up their consecutive victory string by handing the Spartans their second conference defeat, 20-13.

Giesler Sparks Spartans

Dale Giesler is the only Spartan returning in the backfield. This year, Giesler, at the signal position, ranks 12th nationally in total offense, fourth in rushing and third in scoring, to put the Spartans 19th in total offense and 27th in passing in the nation. On the pass plays of Giesler, Brian McGregor, a senior end from Montreal, is his main target. McGregor is presently fourth in the nation in receiving.

With the return of 13 lettermen and eight seniors, the Spartans still lack backfield experience and have a few holes in the line this season.

Last Year Near Cellar

At the end of last year's grid season, the Spartans found themselves near the cellar with a 1-6-1 record. In the last meeting of Wartburg and the Spartans, the Knight eleven shut out Dubuque 13-0.

In last week's Homecoming tilt with Iowa Wesleyan, the Knights gained one more notch in their climb for the conference championship by defeating the Tigers 34-19.

Scoring for Wartburg were Ott from the one-yard line, Van Wyngarden on a pass play, Raper from the six-yard line, Nichols on a punt return and Sowers with a pass interception. Krominga converted four extra points.

Country Runners Are Still Winless; One Chance Left

Wartburg thinclads traveled to Platteville State Teachers College Tuesday and again were forced to return without victory, as Platteville ran all over Wartburg, 15 to 44.

Don Dietzler was the first Wartburg representative to trot across the finish line, grabbing sixth-place honors with a time of 13 mins. 8 secs. for the 2.3-mile course.

Gary Moody was 11 seconds behind Dietzler as he was forced to settle for eighth. Bob Boettcher, Ted Kalkwarf, Rog Hubbard, Gerald Haffner and Dave Siefkes placed ninth through thirteenth, respectively.

Wednesday, Nov. 5, the thinclads will travel to Winona State College, where they will try to come up with a victory to close out the year.

Matmen Supposed To Meet Monday

Wrestling Coach Norm Johansen has issued the call for all men students interested in this sport to meet with him at 4 p.m. Monday in the north classroom of Knights Gym.

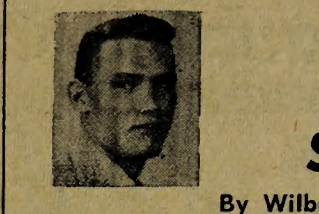

"First meet is scheduled for Dec. 6, so it is urgent that we begin practice immediately," emphasized Jo.

Lineman Of The Week

Two former "lineman of the week" choices were chosen "linemen of the week," after both played an outstanding game against Iowa Wesleyan last Saturday.

Bob Mueller, Waverly freshman, claimed honors for the second time after having being named the top choice following the Parsons contest Sept. 27. John Hugo, a junior from Mason City, was in on the title for the second consecutive week, as he copped the honor last week for his play in the St. Cloud game.

Mueller, an end, and Hugo, a linebacker, were instrumental in holding the Wesleyan ground attack to 28 yards in the second half. This in turn spurred the Knights from a 19-14 half-time deficit to a 34-19 win.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

Today's encounter with Dubuque could easily be tabbed as one of the most important games in the history of football at Wartburg College.

A win by the Knights would set an all-time school record as far as wins in one season is concerned. Three teams in the past 20 years have won five contests in one season. A win would give Coach Norm Johansen's boys a six-game winning streak, another feat not yet accomplished by black and orange squads. Most important at the moment, however, is that a victory would keep Wartburg riding high in quest of the first conference championship in the history of the school.

The task won't be easy. Dubuque is stinging from a 20-13 loss to BV last week, which pushed the Spartans into a tie with Wesleyan for third spot in the Iowa Conference. Dale Giesler, quarterback in Coach Moco Mercer's offensive attack, is currently leading the nation in scoring and is one of the total offense leaders of the country.

Knight QB Marv Ott also climbed into the national ratings this week. Marv is 30th among all backs in the United States in total offense and ranks 25th in forward passing.

Students at today's game might cast a glance at Dubuque U's colorful mentor, Moco Mercer. He played 14 years of prep, collegiate and pro football without an injury — and never used any pads or a helmet until he broke into pro ranks.

An Iowa Conference native, Moco played for Simpson and carried the ball 17 consecutive times for 86 yards and a TD against Parsons in '25. In '26 he kicked seven straight field goals to whip St. Ambrose 21-0. Then he moved up with the big boys, leading the National Football League in scoring from 1927 thru 1929 while playing for the Philadelphia Yellow Jackets.

He was captain of the all-pro team in 1928 and in the same year threw the longest forward pass on record, a 69-yard aerial to Henry (two-bit) Homan.

Physical education majors and minors met with Dr. Ax Bundgaard and Miss Adeline Langrock Thursday eve and voted to establish a P.E. club on campus. A committee composed of seniors Elaine Ranschau and Wayne Slack, juniors Mary Jo Logan and Chuck Nichol and soph Dave Jensen will meet to propose a constitution and establish some of the functions of the group before organization takes place.

Incidental note — Ray Gross has one semester of eligibility left at the U. of Wisconsin. Come on, Badgers, we DARE you to tamper with John Tuecke.

Coaches Attend Des Moines Meet

Dr. Ax Bundgaard and Robert C. Campbell, Athletic Department, will participate in a meeting of the Iowa Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation Nov. 6-8 at Des Moines as part of the annual convention of the Iowa State Education Association.

Bundgaard will speak on "Suggestions for Improving Instruction in Physical Education in Iowa High Schools," while Campbell is co-chairman for a section of the convention entitled "Professional Preparation."

Wartburg will also hold an Alumni Coffee Hour at the Hotel Savery from 3 to 5 p.m. Nov. 7 in conjunction with this same convention.

GOETZ REVIEWS

Swensen Lauds Danish Group

By Bill Goetz
"Absolutely superb," was the way Dr. A. W. Swensen, chairman of the Artist Series Committee, described the performance of the Danish National Orchestra at Wartburg last Sunday evening.

Under the baton of Thomas Jensen, conductor, the orchestra was most impressive in its precision and tone quality, in which it was at least the equal of such groups as the Chicago Symphony and the Minneapolis Symphony, which this reviewer heard recently.

The concert opened with the playing of the American and Danish national anthems. Several members of the audience were later heard to remark that they had never heard such an outstanding performance of our national anthem.

The group proceeded to the first work on the program, von Weber's "Overture to 'Oberon.'" The skill and artistry here displayed was but a foretaste of the brilliant performance of the major work of the evening, Brahms' "Symphony No. 1."

The symphonic fantasy "It Is Quite True" next delighted the audience with its clever portrayal of a crisis in a barnyard. The work was based on a Hans Christian Andersen fairy tale.

"Little Suite for Strings" once again displayed the group's musicianship at its highest point. By the modern Danish composer Nielsen (1865-1931), the work was a perfect medium for this orchestra.

The program concluded with "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks" by Strauss, a pleasing work based on a 15th century German folk tale. The tumultuous applause of the audience brought Conductor

Jensen back to the podium for two encores.

During the intermission, Dr. C. H. Becker, Wartburg president, was presented with a medal as a gift of appreciation from the orchestra. Dr. Becker expressed the feelings of closeness felt by Americans to the Danish people.

Jensen, who celebrated his 60th birthday in Des Moines on the present tour, said the near-capacity crowd that attended the concert was a most appreciative and intelligent audience.

Homecoming Honors Go To Several Wartburgers

Beards, floats, dorm decorations and rooms garnered prizes for Wartburg students during last weekend's Homecoming celebration.

Lynn Meier, freshman from Cushing, won the electric shaver for having the best all-around beard. Other freshmen who bristled their way to prizes were Larry Mugridge, Horst Hehr, Pearce Konold, Louis Schneider, Marvin Cumberland, Roger Reed and Roger Hubbard.

Science Float First

Science Club will be the first organization to have its name inscribed on the plaque commemorating winning Homecoming floats. Using the theme "Tranquilize the Tigers," the float edged out second-place

APG Will Initiate Pledges Tomorrow

Beta Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity, will hold an initiation supper tomorrow evening at the home of the group's adviser, Mrs. Earl Garland, 1309 2nd Ave. SW.

The 5:30 p.m. supper will be climaxed by an informal and also a formal initiation for the pledges, Larry Everett and Phyllis Haglund, seniors.

North Hall and third-place Junior Class.

Wartburg Hall and Centennial Hall shared first-place honors in the dorm decorating contest.

Room Prizes Awarded
Winning top honors in the men's dormitory room category were juniors Jim Thomas and Alan Repp, off-campus; sophs Jack Horner and Karl Hochradel, North Hall; juniors Joel Diemer and Norm Litzner, Grossmann Hall; and seniors Roger Buhr and John Pavelka, Clinton Hall.

Women's dormitory room winners were sophomores Grace Jahn and Linda Mugridge, Wartburg Hall; freshmen Mary Klaassen and Lois Kuhlmann, North Centennial Hall; and seniors Marian Boicourt and Barbara Bauer, South Centennial Hall.

Fifteen LSA's Are At Weekend Ames Conference

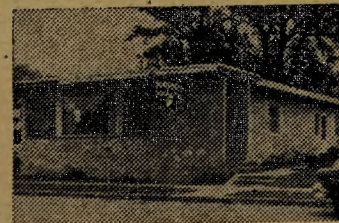

Fifteen members of the Wartburg Lutheran Student Association are attending the annual Iowa Regional LSA Fall Conference at Ames this weekend.

Based on the theme "Christian Liberty," the meeting began Friday and ends Sunday morning. Dr. R. G. Belgum, head of the Philosophy and Religion Department, Luther College, Decorah, is giving three addresses at the convention.

Tripping With The Trio

As we bid a fond farewell, we three strike out on our own this weekend. As Peanuts goes, so goes the Trio. East, South and West—we are the ones that write the best.

We wish our blessing on the team as it travels to Dubuque. It has given prestige to the college, and we are proud that it is part of our school. We hope the Knights will go all the way obtaining the conference title.

This Sunday will be one of your last chances weather-wise to tour along the scenic Cedar River. We suggest that you take full advantage by bicycling.

Attention, Silas Marners! BSA will have an after-the-carwash meeting for counting its profits. Bring your adding machine at 7 p.m. to Wartburg Hall Lounge.

Parish the thought. Phebes will fill up the Faculty Lounge, Luther Hall, Tuesday at 7 p.m.

To the worldly wise and moon watchers: grab your plans for peace and orbit over to Wartburg Hall for the World Affairs Forum at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Clinton Hall is giving North Hall a run for its money. Wouldn't it be better if you combined vocal cords? A campus divided against itself can never stand. Remember the good old days of college tradition? Let's try a little more serenading whether there is a game or not.

As the sun sinks slowly in the west, the Trio sink slowly into their rooms to begin packing for their weekend activities.
